VILE PAMPHLET CIRCULATED
BY LEAGUE FARGO COMMITTEE
AGAINST PROMINENT LUTHERAN

Appropriate Name of Labor Assembly to Cover Tracks in "Men Only" Book

LABOR REPUDIATES IT

Responsibility Denied by High Officials—League City Committee the Author

Fargo, N. D., Oct. 27.—Officials of the Fargo Trades and Labor Assembly indignantly deny any responsibility for a vile pamphlet delivered to the homes of people of Fargo by organizers for the Nonpartisan league.

So rotten was the pamphlet that on the front page was printed this warning: "CARE MUST BE TAKEN THAT IT DOES NOT REACH THE HANDS OF CHILDREN OF IMMATURE MINDS."

The pamphlet was distributed broadcast. It bore the name of the Fargo Trades and Labor assembly. It was the most vicious and despicable piece of literature that has emanated from the Nonpartisan league headquarters in the desperate campaign to stave off the vote of defeat which is being down upon them.

Deny Responsibility

This is the statement of two officials of the trades assembly denying responsibility for the circular:

TO THE PEOPLE OF FARGO:

It was brought to my attention yesterday afternoon that the name of the Fargo Trades and Labor assembly had been used to sponsor a campaign document known as "Stringent League Laws Against Impurity."

I want the people of Fargo, and the people of the whole state, to know that the publication of that document was never before the Trades and Labor assembly.

I want the people to know that the Trades and Labor assembly does not approve of that sort of campaign charges, and I want them to know absolutely that the union men of Fargo are not, nor will they permit themselves to become the victims of such attacks on citizens of North Dakota, such as are contained in this material.

Until yesterday afternoon I had no idea that the name of the assembly had been employed in this manner, and I find that no other union men other than the members of the "campaign committee" have been approached in connection with the use of the assembly's name.

The Trades and Labor assembly absolutely does not stand sponsor for the document, nor does it approve of the circular.

J. W. SCHANNACH,
President of Fargo Trades and Labor Assembly.

TO THE PUBLIC:

I have acted as secretary for the Fargo Trades and Labor assembly since July 6, 1920, and since the assembly took action in creating and authorizing a campaign committee previous to that time, I do not know if said committee were or are authorized to make any vital question without first consulting me. I do know, however, that a pamphlet being recently published under the stamp of the campaign committee of the Fargo Trades and Labor assembly, does not meet with the general approval of the assembly, nor of me personally, as its secretary-treasurer.

ELIOT FRIDLUND.

With the denial of responsibility by President Schannach and Secretary-Treasurer Eliot Fridlund these facts became known:

The name of the labor assembly was appropriated by the city committee of the Nonpartisan league. The chairman of this committee is Gallagher, imported organizer, said to be the same Gallagher who was charged by the American Legion post of Bismarck of signing his name as post adjutant to a personal communication of political trend.

Under Cover of Darkness

The pamphlet was distributed under cover of darkness, being thrown on porches of Fargo homes.

A "campaign" committee of the labor assembly, a member of which admitted to the assembly, that it has permitted the Gallagher committee to father the pamphlet, "Stringent League Laws Against Impurity," is composed of three men, one of whom is a candidate for the legislature.

The whole affair was a palpable effort on the part of the Nonpartisan league managers to escape responsibility for the vile document, which doubtless was paid for by contributions of men and women members of the Nonpartisan league.

It contains most vicious attacks on prominent North Dakota citizens. One of these is E. W. Everson, president of the North Dakota Total Abstinence society, an organization of the state who have engaged in a long fight for prohibition and law enforcement. Charges made against Mr. Everson cover alleged visits to sporting houses in St. Paul, and alleged participation in a "liquor favored" party at St. Paul. Theo. G. Nelson is the other object of the attack.

Circulate Petitions Denouncing Stand Taken by League Leader

Valley City, N. D., Oct. 27.—Present of Divide county, formerly a league stronghold, are circulating and signing in large numbers the following declaration:

"Whereas, it has been brought to our attention that A. C. Townley, president of the Nonpartisan league, has in speeches made to citizens of this state, threatened that if in the November election, it appears that his candidates for office have been defeated, he will come back to the State of North Dakota and organize the farmers for the purpose of boycotting and driving out of the state every businessman now in the state; and whereas, we believe that such threat is made for the purpose of intimidating free American citizens from exercising their right of suffrage with free minds and independent of coercion, and that it can only result in class division and class hatred among the people of this state;

"Now, therefore, we the undersigned, 100 per cent. American citizens and farmers of North Dakota, do hereby announce to the world that we do not propose to be organized for the purpose of boycott or intimidation; that we do hereby denounce as un-American and wicked the making or speaking of such threats against citizens of this state, and we shall stand unanimously opposed to any effort of such kind and should the attempt be made, and we invite farmers in communities to join us in taking the same stand."

CONTINUES THREATS

Steele, N. D., Oct. 27.—A. C. Townley continued his boycott threats in Steele and Jamestown.

The big boss had a disappointingly small crowd at Steele but was greeted by a fairly large audience at Jamestown.

His threats of a boycott, his vulgarities and his viciousness in his speech here yesterday afternoon lost him at least three votes.

"Well, I'll not vote for a man like that, and neither will my boys," said a woman as she left the hall lecturer, and Albert Edmundson, farmer and ex-league member, told an audience at Tappan yesterday why they should not vote for a Townleyized ticket. Arnold had been challenged by Nonpartisan league hecklers for a debate, but when Arnold came for his speech the debater failed to show up.

NATIVE DEATH
LIST IN HAITI
REDUCED 1,000

Washington, Oct. 27.—Natives killed in Haiti during the five years of American occupation numbered 2,250, instead of 2,250 as previously announced by the navy department. It was disclosed at the ongoing public session today of the naval court of inquiry recently appointed by Secretary Daniels to investigate the conduct of the marines in the island republic.

Brigadier-General Barnett, former commander of the corps, first testified before the court, testified that the mistake in addition had led to the erroneous announcement. Major Edmund B. McEllen, attached to the casualty record office of the corps, testified that only a very few of the natives killed had not fallen in action with the marines or the gendarmes.

CANDIDATES NEAR END

Cox Quits West Virginia and Harding Begins Final Ohio Speaking Tour

Chicago, Oct. 27.—The political situation in the middle west now settled into its final form indicates Republican majorities so enormous that one hesitates to even mention them says John T. Adams, vice chairman of the Republican National committee in charge of the western headquarters who today gave out a review of campaign conditions.

"Minnesota will go for Harding by a large majority, undoubtedly above 100,000," he said. "As a national organization the Democratic party in Minnesota has almost ceased to exist. North and South Dakota will show a vote about three to two in favor of Harding and Coolidge. The majority will not be enormous but will be sure. The national Democratic ticket has been given up as hopeless and Mr. Cox is being traded off for state candidates."

HARDING ON TARIFF

Marion, Ohio, Oct. 27.—On the eve of his departure for his final speaking tour, a four-day circuit of Ohio cities, Senator Harding again directed the attention of the public to two of the issues that have been in the forefront of his campaign, the protective tariff and the league of nations.

"A prompt action to a policy of protecting American products was promised by the Republican nominee, in a telegram he sent to Paul A. Ewart of Joplin, Mo. He declared that 'disaster' had been brought to mining and industrial interests through failure to properly protect American products, and that now American agriculture was sharing a similar fate."

His comment on the league was in the course of an informal discussion of a recent interview with Leon Bourgeois, president of the league council. The latter's views, he said, furnished further evidence that the only safe way for the United States was to remain outside of the league.

COX PLEAS

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 27.—Special plans for election of senatorial candidates favoring the league of nations were made by Governor Cox of Ohio today in a tri-state tour touching West Virginia and Kentucky, and closing last night with an address where he began his career as a newspaper reporter 25 years ago.

The Democratic presidential candidate, reiterating that he would continue his election—in which he expressed utmost confidence—as "a positive mandate" for American entrance into the league, asked supporters for Democratic candidates here in Ohio and Kentucky also, whom he said stood "four-square" on the league issue.

"Don't tie my hands by electing a hostile senate," he urged reiterating statements made in his formal announcement yesterday, that he believed he would "reach an agreement with the senate regarding the league."

He also continued his attack on Senator Hiram Bland, a Republican opponent as a "conspirator" against the league by virtue of the senator's signature to the "round robin."

The audience tonight cheered the governor when he made his denunciation of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts. The candidate's statement on the Irish question also was cheered.

"How about MacSwiney?" a man shouted.

"In my opinion," the governor replied, "MacSwiney died as a martyr. Martyrs grow almost always from centuries of injustice and oppression. I believe the martyrdom of MacSwiney will enrage the English people, as they were enraged against the 'justice' King George visited on the American colonies."

ANK DEBATE

Chicago, Oct. 27.—Democratic national headquarters here today issued a challenge to the Republican national headquarters for a debate on the league of nations to be held in Chicago next Sunday. Come Frank Thompson, chairman of the mid-western Democratic headquarters, sent the challenge to Senator Harry S. New, in charge of the Republican speakers bureau.

WILSON PLEADS FOR VOTE FOR WORLD LEAGUE

President Receives Pro-League Republicans at the White House

MEMBERS SAY THEY ARE TOUCHED

by Evident Suffering of President

Washington, Oct. 27.—President Wilson, speaking to a group of pro-league Republicans today, at the White House, declared that "so-called Americanism" of which we hear so much, is but a name for selfishness and invented for party purposes only.

Appealing for the completion of the "great moral achievement," which he said the war represented, the President asserted that "the war will have been fought in vain and our immense sacrifices thrown away unless we complete the work we then began."

"There is only one way to assure the world of peace," the President declared, "and that is by making it so dangerous here the peace that no other nation will have the audacity to attempt it."

Jealousy of nations
The President warned his hearers not to be deceived into supposing that imperialistic schemes ended with the defeat of Germany or that Germany is the only nation that entertains such schemes or was moved by sinister ambitions and long-standing jealousies to attack the very structure of civilization.

"There are other nations," said the President, "which are likely to be powerfully moved or are already moved by commercial passions, by the desire to have their own way in politics and in enterprises and it is necessary to catch them and to appraise them that the world will be united against them as it was against Germany if they attempt any similar thing."

Touched by Suffering
In a formal statement issued after they left the White House, members of the delegation said they were deeply touched by the physical appearance of the President, who received them sitting and plainly showed the effects of his long illness and the tremendous strain which he has been carrying.

"He read from a manuscript his reply to the address of the delegation," the statement continued, "and was greatly moved as he did so. More than once his voice choked, especially when he referred to the soldier boys and the mothers of those who had fallen in battle."

"It was evident that he was voting the profoundest emotions of his heart," the delegation added. "The whole occasion was unexpressively solemn and tender."

"It was evident that the President's intellectual powers were in no way impaired," the statement continued. "But the delegation felt that it was nothing less than tragic that the great President of the United States should have been brought to such a stricken physical condition as the result of his indefatigable labor for his country and for humanity."

MINERS STRIKE IN ENGLAND IS HELD NEAR END

Terms of Government Reported Accepted by Miners Committee

London, Oct. 27.—A number of the miners' executive body informed the congress of trade union delegates here today that there was every prospect of terms of settlement of the coal strike being reached tonight.

It is reported the miners' leaders have accepted the government's terms and will submit them to a conference of mine delegates. Mine owners also are said to have accepted them.

The terms reported to have been virtually approved yesterday will receive the increase in wages they demand on October 1 until the end of December by which time it is expected a national wage board, which is to be established will have devised a permanent scheme.

According to information in conference today the miners under the scheme virtually approved yesterday will receive the increase in wages they demand on October 1 until the end of December by which time it is expected a national wage board, which is to be established will have devised a permanent scheme.

HALLOWE'EN FUND STARTED TODAY TO GIVE BOYS AND GIRLS OF THE CITY
TIME OF THEIR LIFE SATURDAY NIGHT

The Town Criers invites everybody in Bismarck to participate in a big Halloween party for the boys and girls of the city.

The plan is to have a big parade of costumed boys and girls early in the evening, followed by a big movie show at the Auditorium, with the gift to each boy and girl of some remembrance of the occasion.

The Town Criers club, being a new and small organization without ample financial resources, asks contributions from the people of the city to make the party a success. To start the ball rolling members of the board of governors, P. J. Meyer, J. C. Anderson, C. A. Barton, G. A. Russell and G. N. Keniston, gave $1.00 each to the fund.

Contributions may be sent care of Halloween Fund, The Bismarck Tribune, or may be given direct to Mr. Keniston, who is secretary of the Town Criers club.

The time is short and the response must be ready if the kiddies of the city are to have the "safe and sane" party promised them.

During the parade and movie show at the Auditorium the boys and girls will be in the hands of competent guides, and people of the city may rest assured that their children will be in safe hands.

It will be the first big out door Halloween party for everybody held in the city, and the Town Criers hope it will be a big success.

A modest contribution from citizens for the enjoyment of the boys and girls, is the committee's request.

REBELLION FAME,
QUITS DRY JOB

Chicago, Oct. 27.—Major A. V. Dalrymple, prohibition enforcement officer in the central district, has presented his resignation in Washington. It was announced.

Major Dalrymple is reported to have left for Washington to urge appointment of Frank D. Richardson, special agent of the department of justice, as his successor.

Major Dalrymple, who took office January 16, when constitutional prohibition became effective, has repeatedly been under fire since early in his regime when he announced a "whiskey rebellion" had broken out in Iron county, Michigan, and led a party of prohibition agents to the scene to put down the "outbreak."

"The second Republican Lord Mayor of Cork lies as lay his predecessor, murdered by the British government. Cork is mourning. Citizens, or any section of them, will take only authorized action. Orders will be issued by proper authority."

Yesterday passed quietly with the exception of a slight stir caused by military raids on banks in search of firearms placed in vaults for safekeeping. Soldiers not on duty were restricted to their barracks.

WHEAT GROWERS
PLAN WATCHED
BY MARKET MEN

Organization Secretary Says Farmers "Strike" is Fully Effective

Kansas City, Oct. 27.—Grain operators, market officials and state boards of agriculture throughout the southwest were watching closely today for the effects of a reported "strike" of wheat raisers who, it was said, were refusing to ship their products to terminal markets until a basic price of $2.00 a bushel for the wheat was realized.

The "strike" called recently by the National Wheat Growers association, in a proclamation urging members to withhold wheat from the market until a $3 price is obtained, was declared by W. H. McGreevy, secretary of the organization, to be in full force.

McGreevy, in his statement, asserted that the association membership of 70,000 was firm in its intention not to sell and predicted the desired price would be realized in 90 days. Other grain men declared, however, that there was no strike and that falling off of deliveries could be attributed to other reasons.

FRESH ADVANCES

Chicago, Oct. 27.—Fresh advances in the price of wheat took place today on general buying, which was generally ascribed to notice taken of the farm strike and to yesterday's weather, which might further retard rural deliveries and also apparently a bullish influence in this connection.

Attention was drawn to the fact that the stock of wheat in Chicago totalled only 700,000 bushels and that today's receipts here were meager, about 20 cars. Opening prices, which varied from unchanged figures to one and one-half cents higher, were followed by substantial gains all around and then something of a reaction.

BLOW SAFE, TIE JANITOR, STEAL NEARLY $4,000

Moorhead Postoffice is Blown by Yeggs Early This Morning

Moorhead, Minn., Oct. 27.—Four masked men blew the vaults of the Moorhead post office early this morning and escaped with cash and stamps at from $3,000 to $4,000. Ed Zebley, janitor, with a mail sack over his head, was tied to a chair while the Yeggs worked.

The men entered the post office at 1:15 o'clock this morning and forced Zebley, who was mopping up the lobby, to unlock the door to the inner offices. After they had tied him they posted one man to guard him and the other two to work on the vaults with a crow-bar, sledge-hammers and other tools. They knocked off the locks of the outer door and blew it open with nitroglycerine, according to Zebley's story.

An hour later, after they had blown three inner doors and secured the loot, one of the men patted him on the back and said:

"Well, we'll have to be leaving you old man. We've got more than $1,000 for our night's work."

The men left in an automobile.

WORKERS IN A SONG OF HATE

Bismarck Women Who Are Against Townleyism Are Assailed by Circular

SAME THROUGH STATE

While Stirring Class Hatred on One Hand Effort is Made to Deceive Women

Women of Bismarck are the latest victims of the desperate effort of organizers of the Nonpartisan league to fan the flames of class hatred to fever heat just before election.

Never before has the league become so vicious in its efforts. Anonymous circulars are being resorted to in many places in the state, circulars so vicious that even the league refuses to openly sign them.

The democracy on which the west has prided itself since pioneer days is thrown to the winds by the league organizers. Their effort is one to degrade people to work for their living. It is an attack on the pride and the individuality of Americans who know no class and particularly upon the western ideal of equality.

Ban Flames of Hate

The circular distributed in Bismarck from an automobile is signed by "Committee of Ladies with Brains." Organized to educate ignorant voting women.

It follows in line with the boycott threats of Townley, which are daily becoming more vicious, with the circular distributed in Fargo attacking the morals of a man high in the Norwegian Lutheran church who is active against Townleyism.

Circulars have been sent all over the state by the league in its last-week drive, printed in flaming black and white, which are printed in the manner in which the Socialist circulars have been printed for years, and containing attacks as bitter as the last.

They are in line with the defense offered by Joseph Coghlan in a meeting in Burlington county in which he defended Frazier's expression that if a revolution does not come by the ballot it may come by bullets.

It follows the expression of numerous rabid Socialists in the league organization who are going beyond the preachings of the Socialist party and advocating "direct action," which is another name used by Bill Haywood and other I. W. W.'s for revolution.

Big Salaries Leaguers

It does not follow the organization of the Nonpartisan league for women in Burlington county, however, which includes in its leaders the wife of a man, imported from another state at a $5,000 a year from the state or others whose husbands are drawing from $3,000 to $10,000 a year salary from the state.

It is not believed these women are the authors of the anonymous circular which is declared an insult to every woman in Bismarck. Here is a passage from the "song of class hatred":

Drawing Class Lines

"We, ladies of Society Hill, advise you to keep away from the polls election day and if possible keep your men away too."

"We belong to the BETTER class. We are strong in the head and weak in the arms. You are weak in the head and strong in the arms."

"What do you want to bother with the vote for? Let us better class ladies of Society Hill and Silk Stocking Row do the voting. You do the work."

"Stay at home election day and rest and we'll do the voting."

"We have the brains. You have the brawn."

Attack on Civic Pride

This is a sample of the vein in which the circular is written. It is declared the worst attack on civic pride and community interest that has ever been made in Bismarck. The people who have been working to create in Bismarck the best and most democratic city in the western country, to develop it and cause it to grow.

"We are all against these Socialist laws. Down with Socialism!" "We are the wise ladies and although we know these laws are good for you Working Women, they let us in a tender spot—our pocketbook."

"So we are I—"

"We know which side our bread is buttered on."

"We are smart."

"So we ladies repeat. Keep away from the polls. Don't bother about voting."

"We brainless ladies will do the voting for women."

"Keep your men away, too."

"Stay at home and raise the babies and when they grow up we will tell them 'so be it'."

A Contrast in Method

The spirit of the circular is quite contrasted with the methods of the league. The league's circulars are to keep women from the polls and to keep them from the polls.

DUTCH RELAX GUARDS ABOUT FORMER KAISER

William Moves About Freely Visiting Nobility of Holland at Will

Doorn, Holland, Oct. 25.—The severe restrictions which the Dutch government imposed on the movement of the former German Emperor at the time of the Kapp revolution in Berlin, at the request of the allied powers, appear to be gradually relaxing.

William now moves about more freely perhaps than at any time since he came to Holland two years ago. These movements are, of course, confined to the territorial limits set by a royal decree, including the villages of Doorn and Amerongen, but inside this territory the exile is now fulfilling his dream of living the life of a Dutch country gentleman.

He goes frequently to Amerongen, to visit Count Bentinck, his former host and to chat with the notary, Schroot, who is not only the former Emperor's business agent and attorney but also more or less of a personal friend.

William also calls on a number of families of the Dutch nobility who live around Doorn and Amerongen, principally those whose heads belong to the Knights of St. John, the order of which, as King of Prussia, the German Emperor was leader.

Dutch guards escort him on these trips but he goes whenever he likes. Doorn has lost all curiosity in the Hohenzollerns and only the occasional tourist halts to stare at William's automobile as it passes in the streets.

This is the first class of candidates accepted in the club since its inception as an organization affiliated with the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, to work for truth in advertising, and to promote the best interests of the city of Bismarck.

President Phil Meyer, of the club, will preside at the meeting, which will be held in the parlor of the McKenzie hotel. A number of stunts are planned for the evening.

15,000 SOVIET TROOPS TAKEN BY GEN. WRANGEL

Sebastopol, Oct. 25.—Fifteen thousand Russian Bolshevik soldiers have been taken prisoners and many cannon and large quantities of war material have been captured in raids carried out by General Wrangel's army recently.

General Wrangel's army, which has been fighting continuously since June and which has suffered relatively heavy casualties, is said by commanders to be awaiting with high courage the Bolshevik offensive north of Crimea, which is expected any day.

Railroads Ask Demurrage Boost

Railroads in North Dakota have made application to the Railroad Commission for permission to increase their rates on demurrages in North Dakota, effective December 1, 1920.

The old rate was $2.00 per day. They now propose to make the rate $3.00 per day.

The railroad commission will appreciate expression from interested shippers, it is stated by members of the commission.

AGENTS SHOT; HOBOES IN JAIL

F. K. Julian, station agent at Fryburg, was shot Sunday night when extra freight No. 174 was passing through the town. It is alleged that hoboos on the train shot the agent without warning, the bullet striking him in the hip. The two men alleged to have done the shooting were taken off the train at Belvidere, five miles east, after Julian had sent word that he had been shot.

A rifle was taken from one of the men and it is said it also was discovered that they had fired at the tobacco on an earlier train at Du-Mores station.

Julian's condition is not considered serious. The men are in jail at Belvidere.

HOME CANNING ON INCREASE IN NO. DAKOTA

More home canning has been done in North Dakota the past season than in any other year, is the report of Miss Agnes Hobart, of the home demonstration department at the Agricultural college. Miss Hobart has received about 700 replies from the 3,000 cards sent out to farm women recently asking for data on home canning.

"We are very anxious to receive the rest of the replies as soon as possible so that we can use the data in making our report to the United States department of agriculture," said Miss Hobart. "The federal government appropriates funds for the support of the home demonstration department and the amount of this appropriation depends to some extent upon the number of women who avail themselves of the home demonstration department's instructions in home canning."

"If only a negligible number of housewives show interest in the department we stand a chance of losing the appropriation. On the other hand if a large number of women answer the questions on the cards sent out and return them to us, it will have a tendency to increase our appropriation."

"For this reason it is of very great importance that the cards be returned to us at an early date."

PLAN ADVANCED FOR GETTING $3 FOR 1920 WHEAT

Bankers and Farmers Join in Meeting in Valley City to Hear Discussion

ALLENS GIVES EVIDENCE

Topeka, Kan., Oct. 27.—Governor conditions favor and make possible an arrangement under which the producer can obtain $3 a bushel for wheat and $2.25 for rye during the remaining nine months of the crop year, according to a statement by Gen. A. P. Peake of Valley City, before a meeting of 400 farmers and business men, of Barnes county, held here Saturday afternoon for the purpose of considering the Ransom county plan for a holding pool on wheat.

General Peake gave seven points bearing directly on the wheat situation, as follows:

Plan Is Outlined

First: North America is able to dictate a price of $3.00 per bushel in gold for wheat.

Second: The winter wheat states—Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma—the spring wheat states—Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Montana and Washington—with the three great wheat provinces of the Canadian northwest control, on the farms, over 400,000,000 bushels of wheat.

Third: A complete stoppage of farm deliveries from this territory for 45 days should force the desired advance in price.

Fourth: World bread grain conditions are such that foreign governments must find means for feeding their people.

Fifth: There are no stocks of wheat and rye other than those in North America which are available of Australia and Argentina are by no means assured.

Sixth: All speculative activities on this continent are upon the selling side and the small stocks at points of contract delivery will force heavy buying by sellers of contracts before the December delivery expires.

Seventh: The great problem which remains to be solved is the financing of the wheat belt farmer and merchant during the period of holding.

Congressman Young Speaks
Henry Nelson, president of the American Exchange bank of Valley City, acting as chairman of the meeting, called on several others in the audience to discuss the situation, among them being Congressman George M. Young of the Second North Dakota district. He declared the time had come when the United States should put as much intelligence into the selling abroad of its surplus of farm products as was displayed by the great purchasing nations of Europe who have pooled their interests and do not bid against each other for the purpose of our farm products. He said that foreign buyers had many times depressed our market by heavy future selling right in the grain exchanges of our own country, and then took advantage of it by buying cash wheat for export. He said there was great need of the passage of a law to place the grain exchanges under federal license and control, and urged the support of all the grain growers to the Lawrence ship canal project that would make Duluth a seaport and enable us to market our grain in Europe as cheaply as our world competitors.

ALLENS STATEMENT

Topeka, Kan., Oct. 26.—Governor Henry J. Allen of Kansas last night, turned over material he has gathered showing the alleged cause for the drop in the wheat to G. A. Stephens, special agent of the federal trade commission, who, in turn, will submit the material to the investigation of the Chicago Board of Trade.

A statement issued from the governor's office says:

"The governor turned over considerable material showing that the drop in wheat was unnatural and doubtless a result of manipulation in wheat futures, together with the use made of the free wheat from Canada. He presented a conclusive proof to offset the claims of the Chicago Board of Trade that the market was controlled by the law of supply and demand by figures showing stocks of wheat on hand at the terminal markets during July, August, September and October."

Stocks Drop Since July 1
"An investigation of the stocks of wheat at Chicago, Minneapolis and Kansas City, during wheat market, shows a gradual reduction in the amount of wheat at these terminal markets during July, August and September, and, while the statements for October show a slight increase over September it is much below the reserve on hand July 1."

"On July 1 the total stock of wheat at Chicago, Minneapolis and Kansas City was 3,513,788 bushels; on August 1, 3,791,104 bushels; September 1, 3,757,600 bushels; October 1, 3,777,715 bushels. While wheat had taken a sensational tumble of $1.00 per bushel, there was a reduction in the stock on hand of 450,000 bushels."

"Surely in the face of these facts, no intelligent man will contend it was the law of supply and demand, because the price reduced while the stock was decreasing."

SWITCHMAN MAKES BIG GAIN TAKING TANLAC

JACK McDONALD SAYS HE COULD HARDLY SET A BRAKE WHEN HE BEGAN TAKING TANLAC—WORK IS NOW A PLEASURE.

"Not only has Tanlac relieved me of chronic indigestion, but I have gained twenty-five pounds in weight since I began taking it," said John J. McDonald, a switchman living at 623 B. Ave., East, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. "For the past ten years I suffered terribly with indigestion. After every meal sour gas formed on my stomach and bloated me up as tight as a drum, making me miserable for hours. My kidneys were in bad shape and when ever I climbed a car to set a brake or stooped over to turn a switch my back hurt me so I could hardly stand it. I had rheumatism in my feet and ankles so bad I could hardly wear my shoes. I lost weight and strength constantly and thought I would have to give up my job. "I had not been taking Tanlac but a few days before I could see improvement, so I kept on taking it and now my appetite is fine and every thing I eat agrees with me. I no longer suffer from gas, pains or any other form of indigestion. My kidneys are now working right and my back has quit hurting me. I am over my rheumatism, the pains have left my feet and ankles and I can turn a switch or climb a car and set a brake without the slightest inconvenience. "Tanalac is sold in Bismarck by Jos. Breslow, in Driscoll by N. D. and J. H. Barrette, in Wing by H. P. Hoffman and in Strasburg by Strausburg Drug Co. (Adv.)

WELSH SINGERS APPEARANCE IS WELCOMED HERE

Inquiries Indicate Music Lovers Want Opportunity to Hear Famous Chorus

Inquiries already received concerning the appearance of the Mountain Ash Welsh singers in Bismarck Saturday night indicate that music lovers of Bismarck and vicinity are taking a great interest in the appearance of the singers. The concert will be given at the First Presbyterian church, and not at the Auditorium, as first announced. The Welsh choir is made up of picked singers from several Welsh singing societies. The manner in which the singers achieved success was described as follows: In the first place Mr. T. Glyndwr Richards is the most noted conductor and adjudicator in all of Wales and scored success after success for himself, he knows the road which leads to it. There are many in his chorus who have the right to append to their names, honors varying from R. A. M. to first prize winners at important musical competition in fact each member of this remarkable company is a soloist and the conductor could give—if it were possible—a dozen different programs in one night and the men could sustain the same without the aid of a scrap of paper. These men feel keenly what they are doing, and there is a secret to their success—well, then it is that inborn Celtic temperament that enters into every word and sound they utter or sing. When they sing they center their vision and feelings in the conductor and they are absolutely his heart and soul—for the time being. Those who have heard the native music of Wales confess that it is second to none of any national music. The Folk Song Society of Wales has been instrumental in unearthing over 100,000 folk songs of the Principality ranging from 50 years to 1,500 years of age. The Mountain Ash Chorus is one of the institutions which helps to perpetuate this unparalleled musical history.

STUDY THE BALLOT

It is essential during the next few days for every voter to study the ballot. There are several don'ts to be rigidly observed:

Don't place an X at the top of any column. To do that would be to vote the party ticket straight.

This year nearly every voter is going to vote a split ticket. Run down the ballot carefully till you come to the name of your choice and put an X after his or her name.

Where there are two or more running for the same office be careful and vote for no more than the ballot indicates. You will find at the section of the ballot a line informing you how many for each office you are to vote for.

For instance you vote for one candidate for governor; in case of judges of the district court you vote for two; for railroad commission you vote for three and so on. No voter need be confused if they watch the ballot instructions carefully.

Don't be in a hurry!

Secure a sample ballot from one of the Anti-Townley voters' schools. You are permitted to take such a card to the polls with you to refresh your memories upon the candidates you desire to vote for and the issues you care to endorse or reject.

The Tribune will gladly answer any question relative to the ballot which may confuse any reader.

OUR POLITICAL BANK

When C. L. Young was speaking at Lien township recently, he was heckled by Frank Prater, member of Townley's secret caucus and signer of pledges to do his bidding. He sat on the front seat and kept a rapid cross fire of questions, some of which were decidedly discourteous and personal.

But the net result of the meeting was especially gratifying. Mr. Prater was forced to admit that the Nonpartisan league made a mistake when Townley and Lemke refused an examination of the Bank of North Dakota.

When the opposition can get league farmers to attend their meetings and secure from Townley organizers that a mistake has been made by these "infallible" socialists, custodians of the New Day, there is hope for the state's redemption from the tirade of class hatred and personal abuse which has made North Dakota a house divided against itself.

The expose of Editor Trubshaw of the political activities of the Bank of North Dakota in Barnes county should be weighed well by the farmers of the state. Mr. Cathro with a Pecksniffian superiority salutes his own integrity and begins to berate the Tribune and Valley City Times record.

But Mr. Trubshaw had adequate proof of the management of the bank. The voters generally know that the institution is a closed book as far as the taxpayers are concerned.

Everyone who is interested in efficient government will see to it that every initiated measure affecting the Bank of North Dakota passes.

These initiated measures merely provide for examination of the bank and their proper safeguarding of public funds so as to end forever their use for political loans and to advance the political fortunes of Townley and Lemke.

"PLAY THE GAME"

"Inefficiency" is the loudest cry in the world today.

From the big business concern down to the housewife who tries to get a grocery order filled correctly or her clothes washed clean, everybody complains that nothing is done right. There is a flaw left there, a mistake made here, and a line of gray remains along the upper edge of the should-be-fresh linen collar. The work of the world is being done just well enough to "get-by." Everybody knows that this is so; all the suffering inconvenience, economic loss, even unhappiness from it. What—the question is repeatedly asked—is the cause?

Is not the individual discontent, bred of envy, the answer? For, after all, every condition of affairs, national or otherwise, is created by the individual—en masse, to be sure, but the individual none-the-less.

The housewife sees the business woman next door starting briskly to town, spick and span, after a good breakfast served on dishes she need not wash. She will meet a dozen interesting people during the day, win success, perhaps, in her little world, and a salary check on Saturday night.

The housewife wipes away a furtive tear of self pity on the corner of her homely gingham apron and plunges into her day of baby tending and cooking, with resentment in her soul over her work's loneliness and monotony, and covetousness in her heart toward the other woman's job.

And that other woman plods through a petty round of office detail, contends with the erratic tempers and temperaments of her employers and associates, drags home at night on a crowded street car with frazzled nerves, knowing she must spend her evening washing her hair, mending her clothes or doing some other of the forty-seven things that make her "spick and span." She would sell her soul for the house woman's independence in the matter of mere time, her freedom from economic responsibility, the love and care and companionship that is the normal wife's.

And so people envy each other's jobs, discounting the compensations of their own, obvious to the hardships of the other fellow's adding another unit to the general feeling of discontent and unrest that they themselves deplore.

The idea of contentment is not reactionary. Getting the most out of daily living, no matter how far it may fall short of ideal surroundings and conditions, does not mean that submissive acquiescence of will which stagnates personal progress.

There is a fine old American slogan that seems rather to have been forgotten lately—"Play the game!" What about re-adopting it as a cure for this epidemic of inefficiency?

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

WHEAT AND POLITICS

The strategy of the leaders of the Nonpartisan league, in the crisis which now confronts them, is to yell "wheat gamblers" at the top of their voices, hoping thereby to distract attention from more or less embarrassing issues here at home. The recent slump in the price of wheat affords an excellent smoke screen behind which to beat a hasty retreat, and the Townley-Lemke crowd are making the most of the opportunity.

It must be perfectly clear to any sane person that business men as well as farmers suffer from the wheat situation, but that is not the reason why we should shut our eyes to the facts as they really exist. To hear the Fargo Courier-News and its 53 subsidized satellites howl, you would think that a handful of gamblers in Minneapolis had manipulated the wheat market at will. But of course that is sheer nonsense. These gamblers can no more control the price of wheat—except possibly for a very short time—than A. C. Townley could sweep back the ocean tides with a broom. These gamblers simply bet on the price of wheat—and at that it takes at least two to make a bet.

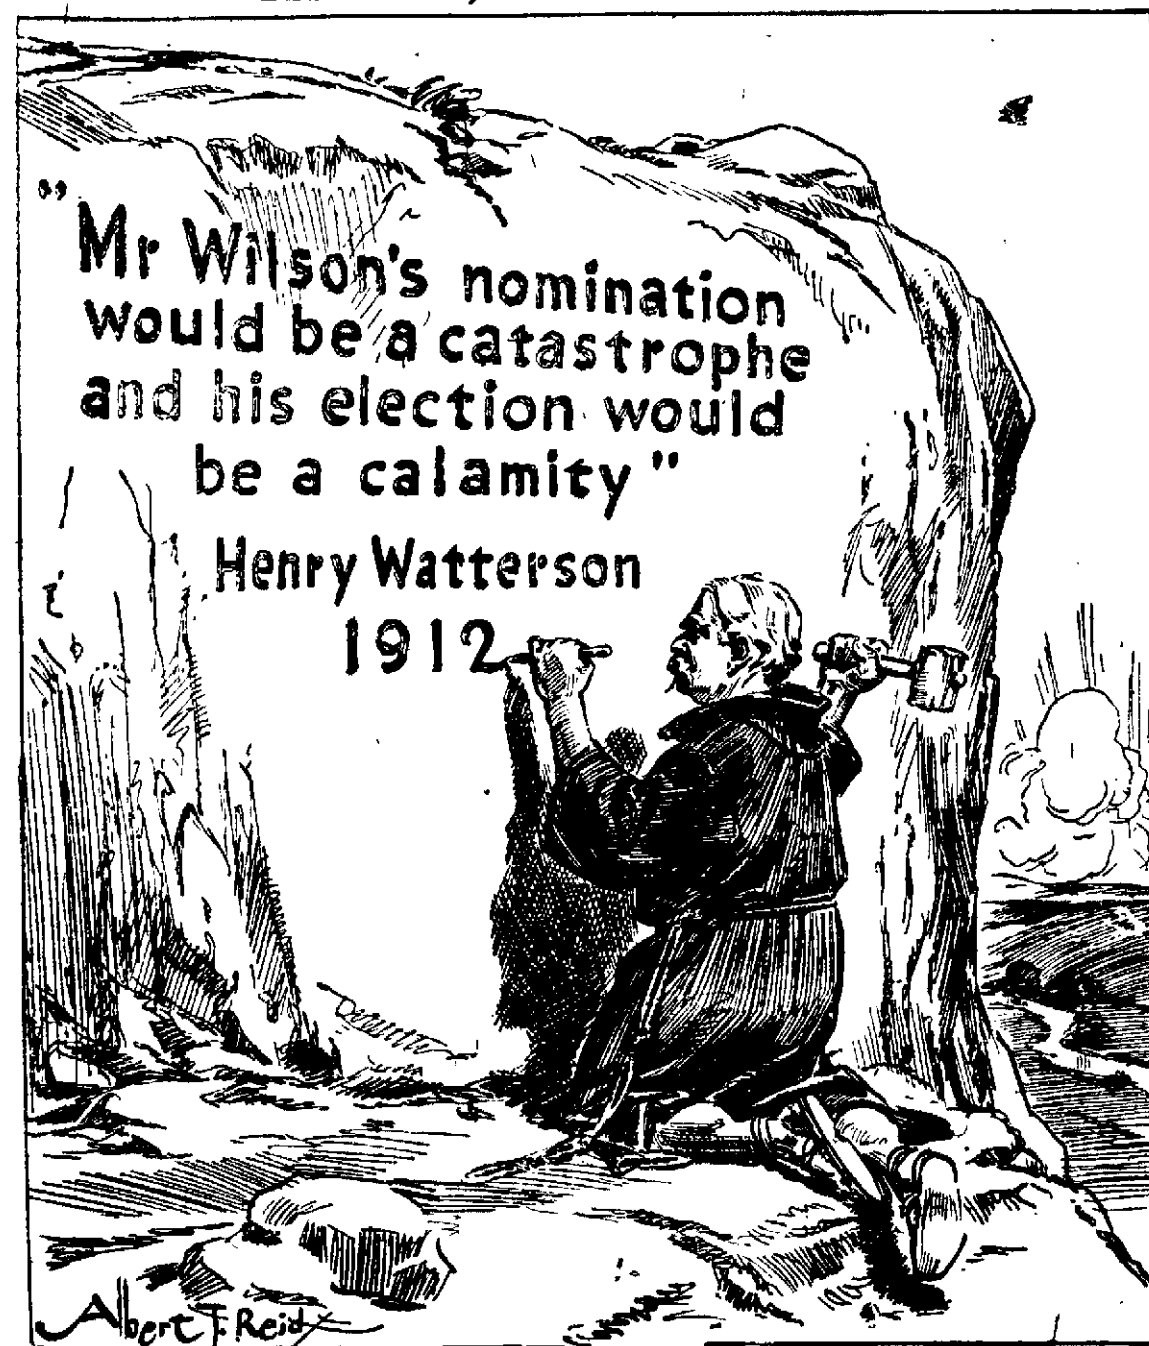

You may be sure that the cause of the present market depression is deeper than that. The influx of Canadian wheat has undoubtedly had much to do with the situation, and it is certain that the manipulation of European buyers was another factor. These influences have since been counteracted to some extent by the threat of a federal inquiry, by the announcement of recent large purchases of wheat on the Pacific coast by Great Britain, by a big drop in ocean freight rates, and by advices of a greatly decreased acreage of winter wheat planting throughout the United States.

But the most substantial promise of relief lies in the fact—if it is a fact—that there is a world shortage of wheat. J. R. Howard, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, declares that the world is short of wheat. "The United States is oversold," he says, "and prices certainly must go higher." However, no one has ever been able to foretell with certainty just what would happen in the wheat market, of which fact the predictions and gratuitous advice of Messrs. McGovern and Ladd are melancholy instances right here at home.

In the meantime, the barking of the hired editors of the Townley-Lemke press goes merrily on. Their jobs are at stake, and that is all they have to lose in any case. It seems a hard thing to say but The Chronicle honestly believes that the entire outfit, from Townley down, would rather see wheat remain at its present low ebb, if that would help them win the election in this state, than to see wheat jump to three dollars a bushel and stay there, if that reaction would result in the defeat of the socialist ticket.

No one is more sensible of the hard lot of the farmers of North Dakota than is The Chronicle. The cost of seeding, harvesting and threshing this season's crop was higher than ever before, and the returns would have been meagre at best. On top of this, however, came the sudden slump in the price of wheat, followed by a decline in the price of all farm products. It is terribly discouraging. Yet we can see no shadow of a promise of relief in the Nonpartisan league program. The dinky state flour mill at Drake, and the foundation of a dinky "terminal" elevator at Grand Forks—how pitifully and childishly inadequate these appear! No, indeed! The program must be far more extensive and comprehensive than anything Mr. Townley has ever dreamed of. Cooperation on the part of the wheat growers of the entire Northwest—that would have some effect. But that is quite a different proposition from plunging our state head over heels in debt, doubling and trebling the cost of state government, and raising "merry hell" generally.—LaMoure County Chronicle.

The Experiences
Of Hiram Wise

INTRODUCTION
"Hiram Wise" is a farmer of the old school who believes in the "emancipation of humanity." Being a forward looking man, he is one of the first to join the Nonpartisan league when its organizers visited his community. While his varied experiences are told in story form, practically every one of them has been duplicated in real life.
"Hiram" speaks in his own words in dialect in order to bring out the general idea. It is "Hiram" who is doing the talking, telling the reader of his experiences with the Nonpartisan league in emancipating North Dakota.

XVI. SOME UNPLEASANT TRUTHS.

"You have been told that the business men were your enemies," began Bob, after a short pause, "that they were fattening at your expense, and as a consequence you have withdrawn your patronage from them, causing them to go broke and leave your town. Let me tell you, my dear friends, the business men are not your enemies but your friends. Your enemies are those persons who for their own selfish ends have told you these vicious lies. Knowin' that the business men are naturally cautious and conservative, these persons knew well enough that once the business men got on their schemes they would warn you against them. Therefore, by tellin' you these vicious falsehoods they have made themselves and their schemes safe. By instillin' in your mind prejudice against the business men of your town, turnin' them against you, or rather turnin' you against them, they knew they could succeed in whatever they undertook, because bein' prejudiced you would not listen to the advice of your business friends. Believe me, had it been to their advantage to do so, they would have told you the truth. This was the reason you were cautioned to keep still during the early days of the league's formation, which you did. Had you not done so the scheme would have been nipped in the bud, and you would have been saved considerable money. And the state of North Dakota would not be looked upon as the outcast among the sisterhood of states. Our grand old Sunshine State has been made the target for the most unprincipled elements of society. To her borders flock the riffraff and undesirables of every state—for under our present administration they are welcomed with open arms. The people in other states are askin' what kind of people live in North Dakota, you are held up to the scorn of every decent, self-respectin' person.
"Now these things I am tellin' you may hurt you, but I am doin' it for your own good. Sooner or later you must have learned the truth, that North Dakota under the present regime has a black eye. Now, you as well as I know the farmers are among the most patriotic of our citizens. They love their flag and obey its precepts. Why then, may I ask was the law to prohibit the red flag of bloody anarchy and revolution being displayed, killed at the last session of our legislature, why was a man endorsed for a high state position who openly approved of the red flag, who said in a speech, that a man could be as good an American citizen under the red flag as under any other flag.
"What an insult to our dear old Stars and Stripes! What an insult to our brave soldier lads, and what an insult to every father and mother in our state who offered their sons in Liberty's holy cause! Somehow as he talked I could not help thinkin' of some things myself, how I had heard one of my ancestors, brave Anthony Wise had nearly frozen and starved with Washington at Valley Forge, how my own dear father left mother with five little children, me bein' the oldest, and marched away with the boys in blue, how when the war was over he came limping home on crutches, havin' given a good right leg at the battle of Chickamauga. An' wuzn't there at home, in the bottom bureau drawer, along with a curl of hair an' a baby's picture, a little box containin' a medal with "Distinguished Service" on it, an' also wuzn't there a paper in that box sayin' "Died on the field of Honor" on it! Hadn't we given our only boy, Jimmie to Uncle Sam when he called, an' hadn't our neighbor done the same with their boys? Yes, the farmers were patriotic, there could be no doubts as to that.

POETS' CORNER

MEMORIES

(BY FLORENCE BERNER)
When the tasks for the day are all over,
And I sit myself down to repose,
A host of sweet memories come o'er me,
Of the days of the long time ago;
I can see myself once more a scholar,
In the school house that stood by the dell,
And I see once again the dear teacher,
And I hear the loud call of the bell.
Dear schoolmates I'd almost forgotten,
Cluster 'round me as in days gone by;
And I see little Bessie, my sweet heart,
With the deep roguish gleam in her eye;
I can see her bright face filled with beauty,
Not unmix'd with a portion of pride,
As she says: "You're my bean, Mister Johnny,
And you couldn't get loose if you tried."
Oh, sweet childish form of my darling,
O'er your grave I have sorrowed and wept,
For dark shadows of doubt overcame me,
And the promise I made was not kept.
But too late I found out I had wronged you,
That your heart had been faithful and true;
That is why I'm alone and forsaken,
When I might have been happy with you.

Every User a Friend

"The only remedy we ever use for coughs and colds is Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It has been our standby for years, and it never fails us."
—T. H. Foley, Marquette, Mich.

"I surely know the worth of Foley's Honey and Tar. I have taken it with good results. Also have sold hundreds of bottles."
—A. L. Steadbury, Parkersburg, W. Va.

Children like Foley's Honey and Tar. It contains no opiates, and will not injure a delicate stomach.

Calm and serene fair Bismarck lies,
As if a bright star of the skies,
Were shaken, from its time worn place;
And falling, there had quickly found,
A spot upon this earth to grace.
"Star of the West," indeed is she;
No title of nobility
Her many virtues need display;
Safe and secure she proudly stands,
To Happiness points out the way.

Taking The In

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Are Nicely
Balanced to Enable You to Eat What You Like with-

Indigestion is about the most universal complaint of mankind. And when the stomach is sour, gassy, bloated-like and you get that peev-

Har bilious taste in the mouth due to indigestion or dyspepsia there is nothing more relieving than one or two Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Many people are afraid of nearly all the good, savory dishes, the fried eggs, sausage, steak and onions and so on, as they usually experience the peculiar acidity which often follows such food. But Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets were designed to supply the stomach with the alkaline effect to offset the acid condition. For this reason many physicians recommend these tablets and you can get them in any drug store at 80 cents a box.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

Killedeer, N. D., Oct. 23.
Editor Bismarck Tribune.
It seems strange that so many free American citizens, calling themselves men, and who have the privilege of enjoying the greatest measure of independence and freedom on earth, will act so much like a flock of hogs, waiting at the Townley trough, watching the man who holds the feed bucket, blind to the fact that he is a butcher and holds a knife in his hand, only waiting his chance to cut their throats. And yet the wonder ceases when we find that they are actuated by a greed, which has for its aim and motto "anything to get the coin" blind of course, to the fact that the man with the feed bucket, is actuated by the same greed and has the same aim and motto and that they are the coons.
Yours truly,
WM. DUDLEY.

(2) That in the instant case where in it appears that a guardian was duly appointed that such guardian presented a petition setting forth certain alleged reasons why certain land belonging to the minor ward should be sold; that the county court made a decree upon such petition awarding the land to the guardian to enable her to make conveyance to the purchaser and required the guardian to furnish an additional bond in an amount exceeding the appraised value of the land; that such guardian thereafter sold and conveyed the land; and that such guardian thereafter sold and conveyed the land to a purchaser, who paid the purchase price and commenced to exercise full and complete control over the premises as owner, the limitation prescribed in such statute is applicable. John E. Leiden, an Infant, by Harry L. Myrdal, his guardian ad litem, Plaintiff-Respondent, vs.
John R. Jones, Defendant-Appellant.
Syllabus: 1. Where a minor aged thirteen years seven months is employed to assist in operating a circular saw in violation of the provisions of Sec. 1412 C. L. 1913 the defenses of minority negligence and assumption of risk are not available to the employer.

2. In an action for personal injuries, where a boy, aged thirteen years seven months, was employed by the defendant, as found by the jury, to assist in the operation of a circular saw used for sawing wood in a wood yard it is held that no prejudicial error was committed by the trial court in not excluding evidence in refusing to exclude the jury upon methods of guarding the saw, the question of the ordinary care exercised by the defendant, and the contributory negligence and assumption of risk on the part of the boy.

3. That the instructions fairly submitted to the jury, the nonliability of the defendant, the jury found that the boy was not employed by the defendant.

4. That it was not error to admit evidence that the plaintiff and other boys, just prior to the accident, were in the operation of the saw.

5. That it was not error to charge the jury that the defendant was presumed to know the statute prohibiting the employment of minors in the operation of circular saws.

6. In the trial of an action for personal injuries, where the counsel for both the plaintiff and the defendant are equally at fault in comments during the trial, the arguments to the jury concerning the private and family affairs of the respective parties improper and extraneous to the issue, and in part outside of the evidence, it is held upon the record that the defendant is not in a position to predicate prejudicial error upon the conduct of plaintiff's counsel in that regard.

Laws 1913, Sec. 4352, "any publication by writing, printing, picture, effigy or other fixed representation to the eye which exposes any person to hatred, contempt, ridicule, or obloquy, or which causes him to be shunned or avoided, or which has a tendency to injure him in his occupation," is libelous.

2. A general demurrer to a complaint in an action for libel admits allegations of falsity and publication, and malice and the correctness of the imputation as asserted in the complaint, unless the imputation attributes a meaning to the words which is not justified by the words themselves or by the extrinsic facts with which they are connected.

3. Where a complaint in an action for libel charges that the defendant maliciously published of and concerning the plaintiff a certain false and defamatory statement; that such statement was intended by the defendant to convey to the readers thereof such defamatory meaning, and was so understood by the readers, the court cannot say that the statement was not libelous unless it can say as a matter of law that the publication of the article of and concerning the plaintiff did not cause him "to hatred, contempt, ridicule, or obloquy," or "cause him to be shunned or avoided," or have "a tendency to injure him in his occupation."

4. For reasons stated in the opinion it is held that the complaint in this case states a cause of action for libel.

Dangerous Fruit. BY BLOSSER

ing to The Times shows again how difficult it is for a play of this kind to be anything but a series of episodes very loosely strung together. Abraham Lincoln" was, of course the exception. There is no drama in The Mayflower play, it is a play of "The Mayflower" and the whole thing consists of a series of scenes laid in London at Plymouth and in New England. The Chronicle calls the play a crude melodrama, the love story which threads it having been taken almost line by line from Longfellow's "The Mayflower" but it is a play which has hardly any dramatic skill.

London, Oct. 27. Twentieth-century Pilgrim Fathers have hardships of their own. RECORD CORN CROP REPORTED IN NORTHWEST

Federal Reserve Bank Chairman Estimates it at More Than 260 Million Bushels

FORAGE CONDITIONS GOOD

Decline in Prices Noted in Case of 24 Commodities in Twin City Market

Minneapolis, Oct. 27.—Chairman Rich of the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis today issued the following report on crop and business conditions:

The Ninth Federal Reserve District has produced the largest corn crop in its history, having an estimated production of more than 260 million bushels. The states of South Dakota and Montana have also the largest corn crop in their history, while the state of Minnesota has its second largest corn crop. The forecast for oats indicates a total production of about 287 million bushels which is about 80 million bushels better than last year. The combined corn and oats crops, totaling 547,180,000 bushels, are a more important factor in the agricultural prosperity of the Northwest than the wheat crop which has an estimated production this year of only 148 million bushels. The corn crop for the whole United States is also known to be the largest in its history.

Million Bushels of Flax

Government Bureau also report that the four states of Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Montana are expected to produce about 69,838,000 bushels of flax, 11,210,000 bushels of flax and 47,535,000 bushels of potatoes. South Dakota has had an excellent potato crop and the flax production has been larger than for several years.

Forage conditions are reported generally as being good; and with minor exceptions, conditions are reported as favorable for fall plowing and seeding.

General Business Conditions

Grain is moving to market more rapidly than a month ago, and there is a larger movement of cattle with fairly even prices. Milling has shown no decline except locally in the Minneapolis mills. The efficiency of the railroads has improved considerably. Tonnage passing through the Soo Canal has remained unchanged except for a decrease in the western movement of coal. Otherwise reports on September business conditions have not been favorable. There were decreases in copper and iron production; in building permits, both for new construction and for repairs; in lumber production; in coal receipts at the head of the lakes and in postal savings deposits. Business failures were larger in liabilities in September than in August or one year ago. The demand for hand-to-hand money to move the crops has occasioned some withdrawals of deposits from member banks and reductions in their loans to customers and increases in their rediscounts. An increase of more than four millions in note issues by the Federal Reserve Bank was necessitated by this demand for hand-to-hand money. Borrowings of member banks in the whole Ninth District have increased and interest rates have remained firm.

General Situation

The general situation both as to changes in the volume of business and in prices is clearly indicated by the debts to individual accounts of clearing house banks in the eleven most important cities for the five weeks ending October 1 when compared with the four weeks ending August 27. The average per week increased about 19 per cent. in September over August, but this was not as large as the seasonal increase of about 24 per cent. during the same periods last year. This shows a relative decline of about 5 per cent. As compared with a year ago the volume for the five weeks ending October 1 decreased more than 3 per cent. When comparison is made with September, 1919, all the cities showed declines except Aberdeen, Duluth, and Great Falls.

Wholesale produce prices for a selected list of 24 commodities in the Minneapolis market exhibited changes in the month of September in 11 commodities. Increases took place in butter, eggs, cheese, bananas, apples, onions and veal. Declines were registered in hens, potatoes, celery, and tomatoes. "Dunn's Review" in quoting minimum prices for a selected list of commodities at wholesale in central national markets on October 2 as compared with September 3 manifested a pronounced downward tendency. Out of 18 selected basic commodities entering into the manufacture of other articles as important raw materials, there were decreases in wheat, sugar, rubber, coke, cement, copper, spelter, lead, bogs, hides, and leather. There were no increases in the basic commodities. Out of three selected foodstuffs there was an increase in butter, a decrease in flour, and an unchanged price for potatoes. Out of three selected textiles there were decreases in serge and print cloths but an unchanged price for China silk.

The buying wave that was started by the recipients of extraordinary war profits, including therein the skilled and organized laborers, has passed. A more normal balance between buyers and sellers has followed. It is very important that business men and wage earners shall realize this fact and its industrial consequences in the form of more vigorous competition, requirements of increased efficiency, smaller profit margins, and greater personal and business economy.

Grain Movements and Grain Prices

It is estimated that the quantity of new crop which had moved from the farms by October 1 was 38 1/2 per cent. of the crop in South Dakota, 22 per cent. in Montana, 21 per cent. in Minnesota, and 20 per cent. in North Dakota. The shipments from country elevators have improved because of better railroad conditions. The Northwest roads having secured a larger percentage of their box car ownership on September 1st than on August 1st. The percentages respectively are 56.6 per cent. and 54.4 per cent. Also there has developed a greater willingness to expedite car movements by reducing delays in loading and shipping and by heavier loadings per car.

The total grain movement from the Northwest may best be measured by considering the receipts at both Minneapolis and Duluth. When the receipts are thus combined, it will be noticed that the movement in September was about 2 1/2 times that of August and 1 1/2 times the movement in September a year ago. The combined shipments in September were double those in August and double those of September, 1919. Although there is some duplication in the Duluth and Minneapolis figures owing to the movement of some durum wheat from Duluth to Minneapolis and a considerable quantity of rye from Minneapolis to Duluth, the amounts are not

"PAY-ROLL ARMY," TRIPLED BY LEAGUE IN FOUR YEARS, MOVES INTO FIELD TO MAKE FINISH FIGHT IN CAMPAIGN

Upwards of 1,000 Persons on State Pay-roll Get Out to Save Jobs for League—Propagandists Scattered Into Every Corner of State in Desperate Finish

The "pay-roll army" has moved out of the trenches into the field of battle for the finish of the state campaign.

The great horde of office-holders of the Nonpartisan league administration is scattered throughout the state making a last stand for Townleyism. The statehouse is virtually deserted and many of the offices outside of the state house have only an employee or two to run them until after election.

The number of employees on the state pay-roll has tripled under the Nonpartisan league administration. Four years ago there were 201 persons on the state pay-roll, exclusive of the state institutions. Three hundred persons were paid by the state auditor last month, and he pays only a part of the employees of the state.

The Bank of North Dakota, with its employees numbering 100 or more, pays its employees and there is no public record of the number on the pay-roll. The home builders association, the mill and elevator association and the work men's compensation bureau employees are not paid by the state auditor. It is estimated that there are 1,000 or more employees of the state, counting the employees of state institutions.

Without its own paid organizers the Nonpartisan league has available hundreds of propagandists paid by the state. One reason for the huge increases in taxes is seen in the great number of Townley favorites who are being fed by the public treasury.

Persons who have traveled over the state have found the "pay-roll army" working in the interests of the league on every hand. The Bank of North Dakota's monthly bulletin which costs a huge sum, is devoted almost exclusively to league propaganda.

and shipments but 53.7 per cent. of a year ago.

Prices at the South St. Paul Stock Yards in September as compared with August exhibited mixed tendencies. There were declines in butcher cows are heifers and spring lambs; increases in hogs, veal calves, stock and feeder steers, and butcher steers; and unchanged prices for lambs.

Milling and Flour Movement

The production of flour mills in this district for the four weeks ending September 25 was substantially the same as during the four weeks ending August 28. However, the Minneapolis mills exhibited a decrease of 10 per cent. The total production in the four weeks ending September 25 was less than two-thirds of the production during the same period a year ago.

plentiful in this district. The hog runs have increased slightly but are still considered light. Sheep and lamb runs are showing the usual seasonal increase. The total September movement as measured in cars exhibited an increase of 40 per cent. over August, but a decrease of 5 per cent. under a year ago. Cumulative receipts from January 1 to September 30 are about 93 per cent. of a year ago.

Pioneers of Tomorrow

AN ORGANIZATION is only as big as its personnel, and the personnel reflects the bigness and the vision of the men who direct it.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been able to attract to its service men of ability, high ideals, and broad vision, because of its policy of selecting its executives from those who have come up through the ranks.

The men who are today the directing heads of the organization hold their position by reason of their thorough knowledge of the oil business, and because they have shown a profound understanding of our economic structure.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) foresaw the development of the automobile engine, and realizing the tremendous increase in the demand for gasoline which would result, prepared in advance to meet the needs of the people.

Ten years ago the average yield of gasoline from the crude produced in the United States was only eleven per cent. Today the average yield for the country is well over twenty-six per cent.

This increase is in large measure due to the foresight of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), and the advanced work done by the chemists and refining technicians in the Company's service.

The result of this vastly increased yield of gasoline has been the more rapid development of all types of automotive machinery, which, in turn, has enabled the farmers of America to increase their output of foodstuffs in the face of an acute shortage of agricultural labor.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is still working well into the future, and the men who are directing the destinies of the Company confidently expect to meet the needs of tomorrow as completely as they are meeting the needs of today, and to give a creditable accounting of their trusteeship to the 5124 stockholders, to the 28,000 employees, and to the public at large.
